OFFICE SCHOOL COMMISSIONER.
ORANGEBURG COUNTY,
March 12, 1875.

Teachers and all other parties who hold legitimate school claims against this county, due prior to November, 1875, will please report them immediately at my office, for registration.
THOMAS PHILLIPS,
School Commissioner.

—W. T. Lightfoot has moved into his new brick store on Russell street.

—J. Felder Meyers remains in about the same condition.

—Tilton's lawyers have served notice of a new trial on Beecher's lawyers.

—A census of New York city recently taken shows the population to be a million and fifty thousand.

—Go to Moseley's for a good five cent cigar. He has some that can not be surpassed by any ten cent cigar in town.

—Andrew Jackson's last words were characteristic of the life he had out lived: "Let my winding-sheet be the flag of my country."

—The Citizens' Savings Bank is now paying a further dividend of ten per cent. This, with the dividend already paid, makes fourteen and a half per cent. paid by the bank.

—The odds are that the Tennessee Governor will select Mr. William B. Bate to serve out the unexpired term in the Senate. Mr. Bate was Andy Johnson's most formidable competitor before the Legislature. He was at one time a Confederate general.

—In all the principal cities of this country the hundredth birthday of the Irish emancipator, Daniel O'Connell, was celebrated yesterday by the assemblage of various Irish societies.

MONEY ORDER BUSINESS.—This business is considerable at this office, and should increase as the rainy season of transmitting through the mail. This is the dull season of the year, in that as well as every other kind of business. During the month of July $1,581.00 were sent in money orders, from the Orangeburg office, which is much below the average monthly business.

—The trial of John D. Lee the Mormon bishop, who was concerned in the massacre of the emigrant train from Arkansas, in September, 1857, at Mountain Meadow, is now in progress at Beaver, Utah. What will be the result is not very certain. So many years have elapsed that it will be difficult to bring forward such evidence as will warrant the infliction of adequate punishment upon those concerned in the crime. And besides there is the difficulty of securing a jury that will not endeavor to favor the Mormons.

—The lower end of Russell street, where several new buildings are going up, is lumbered up with bricks, planks, dead trees, and debris, which should receive the attention of our city fathers.

RAIN AT LAST.—Last Sunday the long drought was broken by a delightful shower, which came none too soon to save the crops. Since then the weather has been comfortably cool and pleasant, with occasional showers.

—Judge Red advertises his property in Anderson for sale, with the intention of making his home in Charleston. We wish the Judge would change his intention so far as to make our pleasant little burg his future residence.

—The bridge on the new street is in need of repairs. Several holes make it really dangerous. If the bridge is high in the middle and inclined toward the sides, the water would readily run off, and not remain to rot the planks.

—W. J. DePreville and C. B. Glover are contemplating a trip to the North. They were intending to start last night for Charleston, where they take the steamer for New York. We wish them a pleasant trip, and a safe return to our burg, where they will be greatly missed in professional and social circles.

—Some valuable property was sold last Monday. There seemed to be several bidders for the office opposite the court house square, belonging to the Oliver estate. It was finally knocked down to Maj. Whaley at $1,300. We learn that J. D. Treville, Esq., will occupy one of the rooms as a law office, and Maj. Whaley the other.

CADET SHIP.—Congressman Mackey, of this district does not propose to prostitute the prerogatives of his office to bring money to his own pocket, as is too often the case. He prefers to confer his favors upon those most worthy to receive them. He has just appointed Mr. N. J. Jenkins cadet at West Point, he having taken the highest rank at a competitive examination held at Charleston last Saturday.

—We have received a copy of a pamphlet giving the programme of the third annual exhibition of the Orangeburg Agricultural and Mechanical Association, to be held in the town of Orangeburg, S. C., commencing Tuesday, October 26, and closing Friday, October 29, 1875. The book is well gotten up, and printed by Walker, Evans & Coggeswell, Charleston, S. C. It contains a full list of premiums, and all necessary information in reference to the annual exhibition.

—A few days since a daring outrage was committed at S. M. Fairley's place, about seven miles from this place, on the Charleston road. A colored man, who had been lurking about for several days, entered Mr. Fairley's house during the absence of the family, and finding a servant woman, named Bridget Baxter, beat her in the most inhuman manner to compel her to disclose where Mr. Fairley kept his money. The villain was unsuccessful in securing plunder, but the woman is in a dangerous condition. Great excitement prevails in the neighborhood.

—From the account we conclude that the West have received in addition to its portion, by some freak of nature, the rains that should have made our field laugh in an abundant harvest. Accidents from upper Mississippi, Missouri and Illinois say that all the rivers are rising rapidly, and all tributaries within 200 miles are all greatly swollen, many of them pouring out in floods. Despatches from various parts of the State say that immense damage has been done to crops and farm property generally.

—Last Monday a large number of people, estimated twenty-five hundred, from various portions of the State, convened at this place to celebrate the anniversary of the emancipation in the British West India Islands. The meeting was organized by electing Hon. S. L. Duncan chairman, and T. K. Sasportas, Esq., secretary. Adjutant and Inspector General Purvis, Rev. T. H. Jackson, Gen. R. B. Elliott, W. J. Whipper, representative from W. A. Johnson, and Ben. Bynas, addressed the meeting. Good order prevailed and all seemed well pleased with the meeting.

—An advertisement has been published by the trustees of this district, expressing their intention of buying a lot for school purposes, and asking parties who have land to dispose of, suitable for that purpose, to confer with V. D. Bowman in reference to the matter. The object is a good one, and we commend it to the public; but at the same time it is the duty of the school trustees to consult the convenience of the public and the healthfulness of the location, in selecting a site for a school house. A lot in a burying ground or a swamp, or one outside of the district would hardly be considered a desirable place.

—The body of an unknown man apparently about twenty years of age, was discovered by the section hands Tuesday morning, about half a mile below this station on the S. C. R. R., fearfully mangled. The wheels had passed over both legs, the left being severed from the body. It is supposed that he was stealing a ride on the two o'clock train for Columbia, and by some mishap fell under the wheels. An inquest was held by Trial Justice Girardeau, and verdict given in accordance with the facts.

SOLD AGAIN.—The fine lot on Senate street, containing three-quarters of an acre, upon which the residence of Judge Andrews was burned last winter, and which was sold by the sheriff on Monday for $650, was sold again yesterday for $200, at the risk of the former purchaser, Mr. John Agnew being the purchaser. —Union Herald.

—A correspondent of the News and Courier, in describing the recent game between the Crescents and Oranges, make the following personation: Where all played so well it might, perhaps, seem invidious to mention any specially by names, but I cannot forbear mentioning Jenkins' force at the bat and remarkable swiftness of foot, and the peculiar excellence of the play on first base by Jones, of the Crescents, and Glover, of the Orange, who delighted the eager spectators by their wonderful catches.

—EX-PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S death will be regretted by none more deeply than by the insurance companies. He was a believer in life insurance, and illustrated his faith by his acts, to an extent that is rare indeed, even nowadays. The aggregate of the policies on his life is no less than Three Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars. His happy heirs can well afford to say no more about his little pile of seventy thousand dollars, which the ex-President lost by the bankruptcy of Jay Cooke's bank.

FALSE ALARM.—An alarm of fire was raised last Wednesday night about eleven o'clock, but the fire proved to have no existence save in the bosom of a wrathful benedict, who was giving his wife a substantial reminder of his right to command, and her duty to obey. The wife cried "murder," and some one mistaking it for "fire," took up the refrain, the bells pealed forth the dread alarm, firemen hurried to the scene of action, and, withal, the conjugal infelicity of this unhappy pair was the occasion of quite a public commotion.

—The fall elections, this year, though of no great importance intrinsically, will be watched with interest on account of their bearing on the Presidential campaign of next year. The first comes off in California September 1, the Arkansas election comes one week later, and that of Maine follows, September 13, Iowa and Ohio vote October 12; New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Maryland, Mississippi, Minnesota, Kansas and Virginia hold their elections November 2, and Texas votes the following week. The chief interest, of course, centres in Ohio, where the battle will be fought, in part, upon the issue of Forced Resumption.

NEW COURT HOUSE.—There are indications that the work will soon commence upon the new court house. A large pile of white sand, and a pile of material, of about the same stability, called brick, in the court house square make something of a showing. The experiment of manufacturing brick has proved a signal failure, and should those brick be used in the construction of the building, the indignation of the tax-payers would be great. As we have before said, Mr. Livingston has every inducement to build a court house well worth the money; for, as a young man whose interests are identified with the county, a failure to do this, would be a perpetual monument of his disgrace. He is to be commended in attempting to patronize home industry, and to keep the money to be expended in the construction of the building as far as possible within the limits of the county, but this will not justify him in using any but good material in its construction, much less those "mud cakes" facetiously called brick. We are glad to hear that Mr. Livingston proposes to procure real brick, and hope the report is true.

ADVOCATE.

There is soon to be a paper entitled as above, issued from this office, and published in the interests of the M. E. Church in this portion of our work.
Since the unwelcome removal of the Charleston Advocate, our work has been enlarging and extending in this section, and demands multiplying for a local organ. The Charleston Advocate was for two years published in Charleston. It was during this eventful period in the history of our cause in the South, one of the most important auxiliaries of our work. Its removal left a vacant place here which has not since been filled. It is an old saying, "that blessings brighten as they take their flight." This was emphatically true in reference to our paper for this coast. Many were taken by surprise at its sudden removal and were anxious for its return. If we had been as fully advertised of the wants and wishes of the people in this section, before the transfer of that paper to Atlanta, Ga., as we were after it was done, it would never have gone from us. The Methodist Advocate is a good paper and ably conducted, but it is too distant from the Atlantic coast to meet our local wants in this section. Our work on this coast differs in some particulars from our work in the section of Atlanta, or the valley of the Mississippi. Its peculiar phases cannot be met by those who live at a distance from us, and are not conversant with the exigencies and demands of this section. The people will have greater interest for Notices of the Press.

The ever-increasing circulation of this excellent monthly proves its continued adaptation to popular desires and needs. Indeed, when we think into how many homes it penetrates every month, we must consider it as one of the educators, as well as entertainers of the public mind, for its vast popularity has been won by no appeal to stupid prejudices or depraved tastes.—Boston Globe.
The character which this MAGAZINE possesses for variety, enterprise, artistic wealth, and literary culture that has kept pace with it, if it has not led the times, should cause its conductors to regard it with justifiable complacency. It also entitles them to a great claim upon the public gratitude. The Magazine has done good and not evil all the days of its life.—Brooklyn Eagle.
